HEALTH & SAFETY AT THE SHERATON VANCOUVER AIRPORT

The Sheraton Vancouver Airport's primary concern is and will always be the safety of our guests and colleagues. We are constantly monitoring the COVID-19 situation and are following the guidelines set-forth by both the Public Health Agency of Canada as well as local government and health agencies. We are in close on-going contact with local authorities. At this time, per the Public Health Agency of Canada, the health risk associated with COVID-19 is rated as low for Canada.

To ensure the health and safety of everyone, we are taking very specific control measures including:

- The Sheraton Vancouver Airport is following recommendations from the PHAC (Public Health Agency of Canada) and Worksafe BC, which focus on general guidance around flu prevention (washing hands, avoiding touching face).
- Overseeing that all food safety and sampling guidelines are adhered to.
- The Sheraton Vancouver Airport is continuing to maintain rigorous cleanliness and safety standards throughout the property.
- The Sheraton Vancouver Airport is placing hand sanitizer dispensing stations in high-traffic, visible areas including entrances, exits, bathrooms, elevator landings, hotel lobby, etc.
- The Sheraton Vancouver Airport is reinforcing cleaning and disinfectant procedures with focus on: faucets and toilet flushers, doorknobs and locks, desk and table surfaces, hangers, safes, light/air switches, TV remotes, and telephones

We are consistently monitoring this situation and will continue to update our guests and colleagues with any changes. We look forward to seeing you soon.
