

BCLA Climate Action Committee

Survey of Library Directors to identify Climate Action Week supports

June 2022

Description:

The following question was sent to Library Directors in BC via the listserv to get feedback about the supports most needed for libraries to take part in the initial pilot of a BC Climate Action Week focused on libraries. 11 libraries took part in the survey.

Question:

Please tell us what options for support would be most important to enable your library to engage in Climate Emergency Week by ranking the options listed here.

Supports listed from most to least highly ranked (average):

Note: The list is ranked based on the average of the rankings provided by the responding libraries, but every support listed was ranked as being the first or second most important support by at least two libraries. There were no additional suggestions provided.

1. Website with resources and programming ideas
2. Communication package and promotional materials such as a media release and social media messages
3. Examples of successful programs
4. Re-usable logos and graphics
5. Professional development opportunities for library employees related to climate change and libraries
6. Registry / list of planned Climate Emergency Week programming in BC libraries
